

Enlighten the people, generally, and tyranny and oppressions of body and mind will vanish like spirits at the dawn of day.

– Thomas Jefferson

Have you pondered as to in our current system of public “education”...

Why have you never been taught about the laws of your own Nation?

When it comes to matters pertaining to the laws of your own land, it is always the same mantra spoken, “You need to seek the assistance of a competent attorney.”, echoed by most without thought nor consideration as to what the actual message being conveyed in such a statement is. Well, what if we are all being kept in the dark purposefully so that a select group of individuals could further push an esoteric agenda right over a stupefied population that knew no better?

Perhaps an even better question to pose is how could it ever be deemed to be proper and just to punish another for not knowing that they had committed a violation of a section of law they had never actually seen nor read for themselves, or when prior to being informed of the intricacies of such a law they never knew of its existence or even worse did not fully understand or comprehend its context?

Our Nation has turned into one of rising poverty, illiteracy, criminal perpetrators, nationalized subsistence and dependency, political perversion and corruption, and of lower appreciation for education and personal morals. If you would like to gain a better understanding as to why this is the reality we all face in our present times, then please keep reading. Regardless, please pass this pamphlet on.

~ For Additional Information Visit ~

<http://www.losthorizons.com>
<http://www.losthorizons.com/IncomeTaxSiteMap.htm>
<http://defendindependence.org/hereisthelaw.html>
<http://defendindependence.org/SVL.html>

(Pub. 1, Rev. 1 - 2009)

The United States of America

It is a common misconception that our Nation is a Democracy, quite the opposite we are a Republic. The U.S. Constitution in Article IV Section 4 states “...The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a republican form of government ...”. It is in a Democracy where the rule of law is decided by the majority what is best without consideration for those in the minority. While in a Republican [commonwealth] the rule of law is decided on the sound principle as to what is fair and just for the people and country as a whole. In a Republic it is strength that is gained through unity, not through majority.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag: “I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.”

To further note each individual state of the Union [the 50-states that make up the United States of America], has their own State Constitution. If you were to view your own state’s constitution you should find a Clause that recognizes among other things the U.S. Constitution as being the “supreme law of the land”.

The Federal Reserve Bank

The Federal Reserve Bank was created in 1913 by the ‘Federal Reserve Act of 1913’. This Act essentially created a central banking system designed to operate throughout all of America and that is also entirely privately owned by a secretive group of extremely wealthy families whose wealth has only increased through time and are now directly associated with international credit card companies, many of the owners of the Federal Reserve Bank are not even citizens of the United States of America.

As a matter of fact when this Act was initially founded the creators of the Federal Reserve Bank were unable to even procure the required assets as required by the startup Act itself, so in a move of desperation these unscrupulous fellows simply took out a large loan from the bank that they themselves were in the process of starting up to cover the millions of Dollars they were unable to obtain. Thus technically speaking the Federal Reserve Bank has been operating in outright fraud since before it even opened its doors for business!

It is rumored that the majority owners of this bank include the Rothschild family, the Chase family, the Morgan family, the Rockefeller family, and the Warburg family. To learn more about this banking system a very good book to read is “The Creature From Jekyll Island” by Edward G. Griffith, which documents how our current banking system was born out of a secret meeting with the intent to monopolize our Nation’s monetary system in rabid scandal.

Federal Reserve Notes

Federal Reserve Notes (FRN) are merely promises of payment (differentiated by the green seal stamped on the front side of the bills and titled as a ‘Federal Reserve Note’ as opposed to ‘United States Notes’ which contain a red seal stamped on the front side of such bills titled as a ‘United States Note’), they are themselves what are known as ‘bills of credit’ or fiat. Meaning a paper currency that has no intrinsic value whatsoever! The U.S. Constitution in Article I, Section 10, Clause 1 explicitly prohibits the states from circulating ‘bills of credit’ and additionally requires the states to circulate currency backed only by gold and silver. FRN’ are backed only by the perceived global perspective of the U.S. Government and nothing more. FRN’ are essentially a proof of receipt of a debt thereby creating an ever larger debt (after it has been received from the payee that is). FRN’ are the epiphany of worthlessness, the more that are put into circulation through expenditure the less value each one thereafter realizes.

The fact of the matter is that our Nation’s money is created through bank issued debt in the form of credit; hence the money we use daily is actually a form of debt, (money issued to one individual creates debt for another individual).

"Paper money eventually returns to its intrinsic value -- zero." - Voltaire, (1694-1778)

When one passes an FRN to another they are essentially paying off a debt with that which is itself a promise for the future payment of that debt. Isn’t that just silly?

Tomorrow if all debts were paid off, there would be absolutely no money in existence! However, that is actually an impossibility because of the interest that is due to the central banking system (the Federal Reserve Banking schemers) is actually much greater than the total available money in circulation.

This is for the simple fact that the Principal plus the Interest (P+I) owed is far greater than the Principal is by itself). To put it another way the accumulated Interest is forever greater than the loan by itself is; for the banking schemers create only the Principal, the Interest itself does not exist! Hence, our Country operates in a perpetually accelerating debt through the exponential growth process. The banking industry actually uses this simple formula to determine what their percentage of gains and losses will be.

$P/(P+I)$  = Percent whom will fulfill their debt obligations and $I/(P+I)$  = Percent whom will be foreclosed and forfeited. At the end of the day the only person whom is actually at in danger of loosing anything tangible or real is the person signing the for the loan of debt credit. The bank schemers (also known as the “money changers”), risk absolutely nothing, as what they create is nothing more than a fictitious instrument!

“Paper is poverty... it is only the ghost of money, and not money itself.”
- Thomas Jefferson

The federal government use to issue what are known as ‘Greenbacks’ (named for the bright green backside of the bills), which were physically backed by actual gold and silver. President Kennedy had signed an Executive Order [E.O. 11110] to place several 4.3 billion worth of silver certificates back into circulation, shortly thereafter he was assassinated by the ‘lone gunman’ Oswald. Though being that Kennedy was clearing turning against the ‘establishment’ (meaning the push for global hegemony) his assassination was likely attributed to several factors. Sadly, one of President Johnson’s first acts in office after he replaced Kennedy was to rescind Kennedy’s Executive Order.

The Central Banking System

The Federal Reserve Bank is essentially what is known as a ‘Central Banking System’, such a system operates in regional branches (currently there are 12 such branches) with each branch existing as a closed loop system. These closed loops treat each bank as an extension of each bank with that loop.

The purpose of this configuration is to minimize the shock that occurs whenever there is a run on the bank that occurs. “Bank runs” as they are also called, occur when consumer confidence is lost in the overall perceived value of a fiat currency.

This type of system is needed for the simple fact that all banks operation on a ‘Fractional Reserve Banking System’, meaning that banks are permitted by the federal government to loan a larger percentage out than what they have within their vaults. Specifically, each bank is rated by the Federal Reserve Bank, permitting each bank depending upon their rating to loan out on average 9 times than the value they have on hand, some banks permitted to loan out 20-30 times than what they have on hand and other specially created banks have no realized limit on what they are legally permitted to loan out.

Each bank within each closed loop serves to sustain each other in times of distress and to supplement each other in times of boom or bust. In reality the way this system actually works is like this: you deposit 9 Dollars into your “savings account” (it is not really a savings account at all as you will soon realize), the bank or any other bank within your closed loop can thereafter loan out to one of their own customers up to 81 Dollars using your 9 Dollars as their basis for that loan, then presuming that this 81 Dollars is thereafter deposited into that same closed looped system can now loan out to other customers 729 Dollars, this process continues so long as the banks maintain their consigned ratio of funds on hand to funds loaned out.

When banks approve credit for loans they are actually introducing new money into circulation and in the process of doing so they are thereafter reducing the value of all other currency in circulation. Bank loan officers across the Nation are conducting an authorized form of technological counterfeiting. Article I, Section 8, Clause 5 of the U.S. Constitution authorizes only the Legislature to ‘coin money’ and to ‘regulate the value thereof’. The Congress cannot delegate their enumerated powers to other branches of government nor to the private sector. In reality our entire monetary system has no basis in law nor does our Nation have an honest and sound currency.

When you place money into your “savings account” your bank is going to use that money as the basis to generate loans to its other customers, thereby causing inflation to occur, which in turn devalues all money in circulation, thus when you want to use your money at a later time its purchasing power will have been decreased. Now this does not sound like much of a “savings” plan, now does it?

“If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their money, first by inflation and then by deflation, the banks and corporations that will grow up around them, will deprive the people of their property until their children will wake up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered.” - Thomas Jefferson

The Internal Revenue Service

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) was born in 1913 under the ‘Revenue Act of 1913’. The IRS exists as an administrative division within the United States Department of the Treasury. The true purpose of the IRS in its present form is to offset the effects of inflation and hyper-inflation that fractional reserve credit lending breeds. This is achieved by removing massive amounts of currency from public circulation throughout the year and turning back over to the source that bore such currency, that being the Federal Reserve Bank.

The Internal Revenue Service, Federal Reserve Bank, and the ‘Current Tax Payment Act of 1943’ [the Act that instituted our current system of “wage” withholdings] all combine to function like a well functioning machine. Take away any one part and just like a broken cog in a machine everything comes to a halt.

The status quo perception of the way the federal income tax is applied is attributed to decades of distortion of truth and obfuscation. You have been taught by your parents, friends, teachers, managers, and other business professionals in the tax profession this misconception. However, once you begin to learn actually comprehending the various categories and classes of taxation, you will come to understand how those previous perceptions you once held are patently false and presumptive.

Categories of Taxation

There are two categories prescribed by the U.S. Constitution these are (1) Direct Taxes [Article I, Section 2, Clause 3 and Article I, Section 9, Clause 4] and (2) Indirect Taxes [Article I Section 8 Clause 1 and the XVI Amendment].

Direct Taxes are required to be proportioned, which means to be equally divided amongst the populations of each individual State of the Union in accordance with the most current census [a count of heads]. Direct Taxes are not avoidable, because the tax is placed directly upon either the person or their property (either real or personal). Such tax classes include: Assessment, Capitation, Head, Local, Personal, Poll, and Subsidy.

Indirect Taxes are required to be uniformed, which means that no matter which State of the Union you voluntarily participate in an activity that has such a tax imposed on it, the amount will be identical. All Indirect Taxes are avoidable. Such tax classes include: Aid, Detraction, Duties, Estate, Excises, Franchise, Gabel, Imposts, Income, Inheritance, Legacy, License, Sinking Fund, Occupational, Privilege, Succession, Tallage, Toll, Transfer, and Tribute.